ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

WACOSS respectfully acknowledges the Traditional Owners of Country throughout Western Australia and recognises their continuing connection to land, waters and community.

We pay our respects to them, their cultures, and to elders both past and present. We acknowledge the land on which we live and work is, and always will be, Aboriginal land.

Sovereignty was never ceded.

YOUR INVITATION TO SPONSOR

On behalf of WACOSS, it is my great pleasure to invite you to partner with us as a sponsor of the 2027 WACOSS Conference and Community Services Excellence Awards.

Future Ready: People and Communities is more than a conference theme; it is a call to action. It reflects our shared responsibility to build communities that are resilient, inclusive and prepared for the challenges and opportunities ahead.

The WACOSS Conference is one of the most significant gatherings of the community services sector in Western Australia, bringing together leaders, practitioners, advocates, government representatives, researchers, philanthropists and people with lived experience. It is a place where ideas are challenged, partnerships are formed, and solutions are developed to create lasting change.

In 2027, the conference will explore three critical streams:

Excellence and Resilience in Times of Crisis
How we strengthen individuals, organisations and communities to navigate disruption, uncertainty and increasing social challenges.

Changing the Trajectory Through Early Investment and Systems Reform
How we shift from responding to crises to preventing them, investing earlier and building systems that create better outcomes for future generations.

Voices, Power and Participation in Designing the Future
How we ensure that people and communities have a genuine say in the decisions that affect their lives, and that lived experience shapes policy, services and solutions.

Together, these conversations will celebrate excellence, build capability, influence systems, elevate diverse voices and strengthen connections across communities, organisations and sectors.

The Community Services Excellence Awards (CSEA), held on the first night of the conference, remain a highlight of the event. They honour the extraordinary people, organisations and partnerships making a difference every day across Western Australia. From grassroots community leaders to innovative organisations, CSEA shines a light on the dedication, courage and creativity that help our communities thrive.

As a sponsor, you are not simply supporting an event. You are investing in a stronger community sector and a better future for Western Australians. Your contribution helps us attract exceptional speakers, amplify diverse voices, create opportunities for regional and remote participation, and ensure the conference remains accessible and affordable for organisations of all sizes.

There are sponsorship opportunities to suit a wide range of organisations and budgets, from major partnership opportunities through to targeted sponsorships and exhibition packages. Whether you are seeking prominent brand visibility, thought leadership opportunities, deeper engagement with the sector, or a meaningful way to demonstrate your commitment to community wellbeing, there is a package designed to meet your objectives.

By partnering with WACOSS, your organisation will be positioned alongside the people and organisations shaping the future of Western Australia. You will engage with hundreds of delegates, decision-makers and sector leaders while demonstrating your commitment to creating strong, connected and thriving communities.

I encourage you to join us for what promises to be an inspiring, thought-provoking and impactful event. Together, we can celebrate what is possible, tackle the challenges ahead, and build a future where every person and community can thrive.

We look forward to welcoming you as a valued sponsor and partner in 2027.

Warm regards,

Louise Giolitto

FUTURE READY

People and Communities

Future Ready:* People and Communities will bring the Western Australian community sector together at a time of change and increasing complexity. As we navigate persistent cost of living pressures, fuel insecurity, rising global instability and an increasing frequency of extreme weather events, communities are facing overlapping and accelerating challenges that test the resilience of people, services and systems alike. The conference will create space to share learnings, recognise the sector's leadership, and focus on how we collectively prepare for the challenges ahead.

The conference will celebrate the excellence, adaptability and resolve of the community sector, while critically examining the systems, policies and investments required to support resilient people and communities over the long term. It will offer opportunities for shared learning, practical skill building, and dialogue across government, community organisations, lived experience leaders and partners.

Through keynotes, interactive plenaries, workshops and showcases, Future Ready will strengthen connection across the sector, elevate lived experience, and support a shared commitment to prevention, inclusion and resilience as core principles for the future. By fostering connection, showcasing good practice and exploring key issues, the conference aims to strengthen collective purpose and support long term resilience.

- The first stream, Excellence and Resilience in Times of Crisis, focuses on the community sector's demonstrated excellence during periods of crisis, including global uncertainty, natural disasters, cost of living pressures and emerging fuel and supply chain insecurity. It will showcase how organisations innovate, adapted service models, maintain trust with communities, support staff wellbeing, and communicated effectively under pressure.

- The second stream, Changing the Trajectory Through Early Investment and Systems Reform, will unpack what prevention and early intervention mean in practice, why they matter, and how they can be more effectively embedded across policy, funding and service systems.

- The third stream, Voices, Power and Participation in Designing the Future, centres inclusion as both a principle and a practice, recognising that effective systems are built with, not just for communities.

Each of these streams provides a strong platform for bringing the Western Australian Community Sector together to celebrate excellence, strengthen capability and connection, elevate diverse voices, and advance the systems, policies and investments needed to build resilient, inclusive and future-ready people and communities.

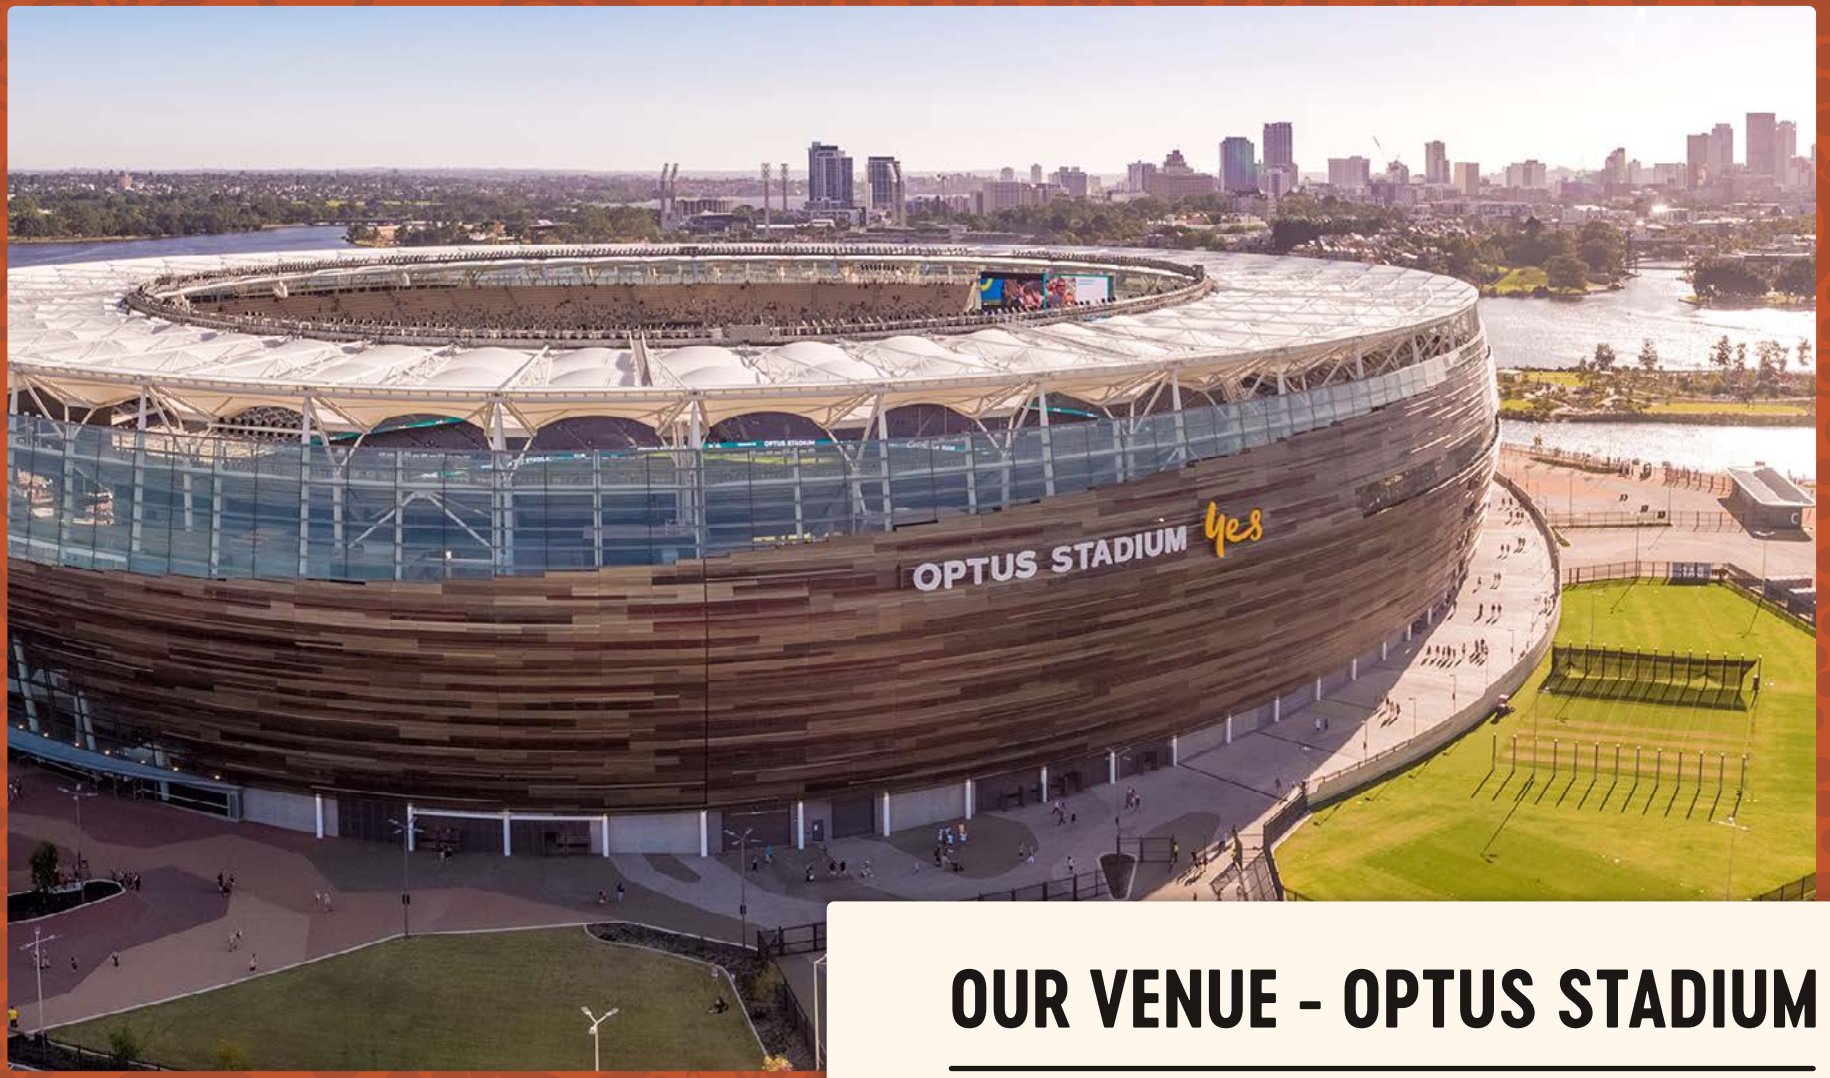

About the Western Australian Council of Social Service

The Western Australian Council of Social Service (WACOSS) is the peak body for the community services sector in WA. It was founded in 1956.

Our members work across every issue that touches people's lives: poverty, housing, early childhood, health, education, family violence, digital inclusion, food security, justice, disability, aged care and disaster resilience.

At the heart of this work are the people and communities who face injustice, exclusion and disadvantage every day. Whether it's families struggling to afford housing, women and children escaping violence, people living with disability or communities left behind by economic and social systems, our sector stands with them.

Our sector generates about $16 billion a year, employs more than 72,000 people and engages more than 111,000 volunteers. It is a major employer of women.
